Dear Friends,

In 2006, the North Georgia Community Foundation began convening community leaders for conversations around the problem of food insecurity in Northeast Georgia. With the full support of the community and a partnership with the Atlanta Community Food Bank, Georgia Mountain Food Bank (GMFB) became a part of food distribution channels to rural communities late in 2008. With a staff of two and the help of a local logistics company, nonprofit partners began receiving food delivered directly to their community. Six years later, GMFB has matured in capacity and effectiveness, distributing over 3.8 million pounds of food or enough food for more than 3 million meals in 2014. Our staff of nine now serves an average of 35,000 people monthly through a network of 58 feeding partners in five counties. GMFB has evolved into a comprehensive resource facility for emergency food distribution in Northeast Georgia.

I attribute the growth of GMFB to you, our donors, for sharing our vision to fight hunger. You believe that no one should be hungry, especially the most vulnerable among us, our children, seniors and disabled. Struggling people need the hope our help provides. Thank you!

Also, I want to thank our remarkable Board of Directors and staff, who are focused and passionately committed to the mission. They have worked diligently to guide this organization to a high level of effectiveness and efficiency. Their determination to increase our outreach, with due diligence to the resources we have, has allowed this organization the room to grow and thrive.

As we look ahead to the next five years, I thank you for believing in the GMFB. On behalf of the mothers, fathers and children we serve, it is my sincere hope that together we continue to work “‘til no one is hungry.”

With Warmest Regards,

Kay Blackstock
Executive Director
Georgia Mountain Food Bank

'Til no one is hungry
“I’ve never had to reach out for food before. I’ve always been able to somehow manage to make ends meet. My pockets are just empty, and I don’t know what else to do. It hurts my pride to ask, but I have to make sure my little girl doesn’t go hungry.”

Making a difference

• GMFB helped provide more than 3.1 million meals to the food insecure in 2014, an increase of more than 400,000 meals from 2013.

• In addition, GMFB distributed more than 330,925 meals through its own feeding programs including senior programs, mobile pantries and child programs.

• Monthly, GMFB helps to serve 35,000 food insecure people, leaving an unmet need of approximately 12,500 people each month who are left facing questions like: “Do I use the money I have left to eat or pay my power bill, heat my house, refill my medications or feed my child?”

“At Perdue Farms, we believe that in a country as rich in resources as ours, no one should have to go hungry. That’s why Perdue partners with Feeding America and its network of community food banks and pantries, of which Georgia Mountain Food Bank is a valued member, to ensure the safe and effective distribution of our product donations.”

– Tommy Waters, director of Perdue Farms operations in Gainesville

FOOD DISTRIBUTOR AND MANUFACTURE PARTNERSHIPS:

- Georgia Mountain Food Bank’s 20,000 square foot Boomershine Family Logistics Center has the capacity to store and secure cold and shelf stable food donations from food distributors and manufacturers by the truck load. This allows “un-saleable” food that was previously donated outside our community to remain within our service area.
- Our partnerships with distributors and manufacturers like Kroger, Publix, Walmart, Food Lion, Sam’s Club, Sprouts, Target, Performance Foodservice, Perdue Farms, Tyson, and Whole Foods accounts for 51 percent of the overall food donations at the Food Bank and approximately 90,000 pounds of food items each month.
GMFB’s mission is to address hunger, health and quality of life by serving those in need throughout North Georgia.

I just felt like I should give my money because I never have to go hungry, and no one else should have to either.

— Heston Grizzle, 5th Grade student at World Language Academy who felt compelled to help and donated $10, or enough for 50 meals, after visiting GMFB on a field trip

Donations:

Every dollar makes a difference at GMFB. Through our buying power we can turn $1 into five meals. No one should feel the pain of hunger. There are many ways to become involved and to give. We encourage you to learn more and even consider joining our giving society the Harvester’s Club.
